Keen Interest In Horseback Riding

Kristin McKelvey Qualifies As Assistant Instructor

Someone ought to warn Bill Wark and the other mountaineers so that if they see a beautiful gal on a horse going along a mountain trail they won't think it's a ghost; it will only be Kristin McKelvey making another dream come true.

Kristin McKelvey, daughter of Mrs. Georgia McKelvey and cousin of Lila and Robert Olson of the Tia Nita shop, has a way of working that makes her dreams come true and succeeding at doing so. At present she is a student at PCC, a professional model, and at nineteen, an experienced horsewoman well qualified as an assistant horse riding instructor by the British Horse Society because of the course she took last summer at the Porlock Vale Riding School in Somerset near London, the school which started in the Disney film, "The Horsemasters."

But Kristin's interest in horses began long before she saw the Disney film a couple of years ago and set her sights on training in England. It began when she first got to ride horses at Camp Teresita when she was about six.

She was born in Fresno; her mother is a native of Los Angeles, and they have relatives living in Pasadena; so Kristin has early memories of the mountains and is glad she and her mother have returned to this area.

The family moved to Okla-lahoma City because of her father's business when Kristin was 14, at which time she got some basic "Eng-

Bicycle Rodeo Jan. 17

Sierra Madre Police To Spend Time For Bike Safety

In its continuing effort to promote traffic safety, the Sierra Madre Police Department will conduct the Bicycle Safety Rodeo again this year. The Rodeo will take place at Sierra Mesa, Sierra Madre and St. Rita's schools.

On January 17, the Sierra Madre Police Department will hold assemblies at all three schools at which time a movie will be shown, followed by a discussion on bike safety.

During the past year Sierra Madre had four traffic accidents involving bike riders and in each case the bike riders were at fault.

The major violations committed by bike riders are: Riding on the wrong side of the street; not stopping at stop signs; not signaling; and riding on the sidewalk in a business district. (The business district is approximately 300 ft. east of Baldwin and 400 ft. west of Lima on Sierra Madre Blvd. and from Montecito south to Suf-

New Prestige Subdivision For Sierra Madre

Permit Being Sought For Billiard Room

At its meeting Thursday night, 8 o'clock in the Council Chambers, the Planning Commission will be asked to rule on a Conditional Use Permit for a family billiard room at 37 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

The application has been filed by Ralph Cohen, 325 West Orange Grove, owner of the property and according to plans submitted will contain 10 tables in the front 70 feet of the property that formerly housed the Richly of California Company.

Indications are that the applicant faces some rough sailing as this office has received several calls asking how the city can permit such usage, catering to teenagers when it is in close proximity to bar rooms and also has no parking facilities to offer.

One of the greatest pieces of news to hit Sierra Madre for many a moon was the announcement made this week by Don Jackson, vice president of the Sierra Vista Development Co., that negotiations have now been completed by their company, the Sierra Vista Development Co., for the purchase of Tract 27459 which is located in the northeastern portion of Sierra Madre, where yours truly has built his home.

The subdivision will be known as "Vista de Viejo" and now contains 42 superb undeveloped hillside homesites commanding a view of the Santa Anita Oaks and the entire San Gabriel Valley, and from Pomona to Catalina Island.

The Sierra Vista Development Company plans to build out the Vista de Viejo Tract in fine custom homes each designed for its own pad to take fullest advantage of what they feel is one of the finest vistas available in Southern California.

Sierra Vista Development Co., has an excellent background in the construction of custom view homes having just finished a building program in the Claremont area known as "Clareboya" and has spent several months selecting what they feel will be one of their finest of the many successful tracts they have completed. As has been expressed by many, and truly the company's feeling, Vista de Viejo will develop into one of the outstanding showplaces of the San Gabriel Valley, and when finished will be pointed to with pride by many Sierra Madreans as well as others of the area.

Five homes are now under construction with more to follow within a very short period, therefore in the present state of development anyone desiring tract information, plan information and inspection may do so by inquiring at the company office located at 3852 E. Colorado Blvd. in Pasadena or by phoning 449-6710. Your inquiries are both welcomed and invited concluded Vice President Jackson.

Installation Dinner February 13

Chamber of Commerce Reviews Accomplishments

The first monthly meeting in the new year for the board of directors of the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, held Tuesday, January 10, gave the group a quick review of the past year's accomplishments and projected plans for the future, including the signing up of new committee members.

Foremost in Chamber attention is the annual installation dinner to be held February 13, with Jim Burke as chairman, and the selection for the first time of a "Citizen of the Year," by a committee headed by Jerry Asher. The honored citizen chosen will be announced at the dinner, which will begin with a cocktail hour at 6:30, with Al Foxton donating his talent for the piano to provide a pleasant background. Dinner will be served at 8.

The main speaker has not yet been announced, but the well-known Barber Shop Singers will provide the entertainment with a group of 18. Last year's dinner, which took in $845 produced a profit for the Chamber for the first time in the amount of $181.04.

As the total year's treasury report for the Chamber, with income of $9060.77 and expenditures of $8916.02 yielded a total profit for the year of only $144.75, last year's dinner profit was significant and encouraging. So many came that arrangements are being made for more spacious dining facilities for this year. Chamber membership remains at a high, currently 101.

Christmas expenses have not been balanced yet, but with an initial expense of $600 for "Santa's Sleigh" for 2 days, against the merchant donations of $1028.50, it is expected that this budget item will probably just about break even, whereas the previous year, with expenses of some $666 against a fund of $968, it produced $367 left over.

A committee, composed of

Successful Search

by BILL WARK

Fourteen members of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team spent five and a half hours locating and rescuing eight young Sierra Madreans missing from a hike along the Old Mt. Wilson Trail, Sunday night.

The group was hiking along the trail when one became ill and they decided to scramble down the slope to cool off by the stream.

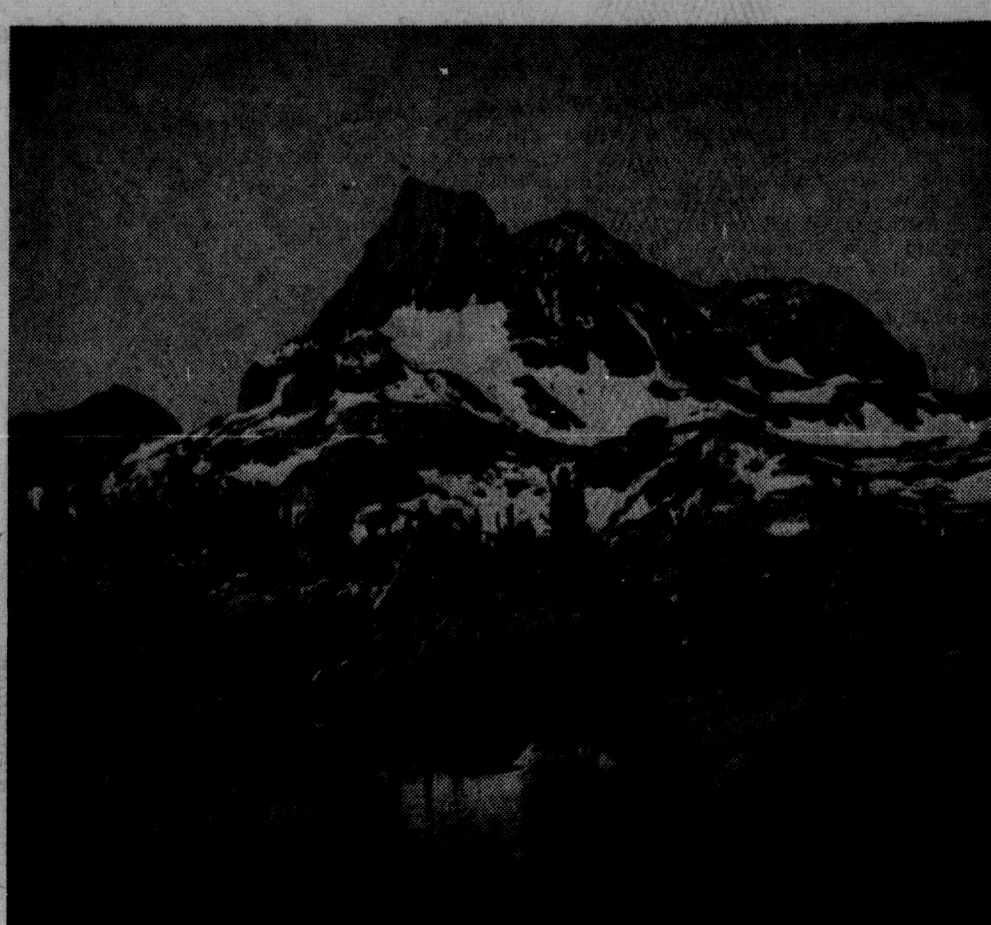

When they failed to return by dark, Mrs. Mary Caldwell of 161 E. Grand View called the Sierra Madre Police who notified the Search and Rescue men, at 6:30 p.m.

Arriving in base camp at the foot of the trail the men divided into three groups. One going up the trail road intending to descend down the trail from the top. Another heading up the trail and one group climbing up the canyon along the stream.

The small band of youths was found at 10:10 p.m. A little chilly but otherwise unharmed. With nylon ropes the Search and Rescue men lifted them from the canyon and brought them down to safety.

Rescued were Mark Graham, Judy, Terry, Connie and Jerry Caldwell, Paula Fifer, Robin Jordan and Randy Wantanabe.

Dr. Palmer Talks About Economics At Special Meet

Dr. Hans C. Palmer, assistant professor of economics at Pomona College, will be the speaker at a special evening meeting, with husbands invited, of the college's Women's Campus Club, Arroyo Seco Council.

Parents of Pomona students from the Pasadena-La Canada area, covered by the Arroyo Seco Council, and members of nearby councils in the San Gabriel Valley are invited to the 7:30 p.m. meeting, January 26, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Dion, 777 S. Oak Knoll, Pasadena.

The Arroyo Seco Council includes the mothers of 41 Pomona undergraduates and 49 alumni of the college.

Sierra Madre Still Short

United Crusade Makes Its Final Intensive Drive

The Sierra Madre United Crusade will launch an intensive mail follow-up campaign this week in an all-out effort to attain the local goal of $24,953.

"We are $2,684 short of our goal," Carl Hobson, Sierra Madre Community chairman, stated, "and it is the feeling of the campaign leadership that we can't afford to quit now... the cost to citizens of this community would be too high if we don't succeed."

"I think all of us, unless directly involved in the United Way or American Red Cross programs, tend to take for granted the variety of services provided in our community by the voluntary agencies and services supported by this single once-a-year campaign," he said.

"For example," Hobson

New Marshal?

Now the Bert Embree has resigned and moved to Morgan Hill to become Fire Chief for the city it has left a vacancy in our town of Fire Marshal which will soon have to be filled.

Of course the Fire Marshal's job entails the prevention of fire as head of the Fire Prevention Department and as such his duties cover a wide spectrum ranging from inspection and enforcement all the way to education of our youth and adults in effective prevention methods. Add to this the inherent duty of becoming a "Fire Fighter" when prevention fails to be 100 per cent effective and it can be seen that the Marshal's job is no flash-in-the-pan activity.

The City Council must now take on the task of appointing a new marshal to fill the boots and we feel that they are already given it some deep thought.

Of course one big advantage we feel is that there are several men, now long-time members of the volunteer department who are willing to undertake the task, and who, we feel are either well-qualified or will be well-qualified after a couple of short courses should they receive the appointment. They certainly should be given the first opportunity to serve in the paid capacity.

When the position was created a few years ago and Bert Embree was appointed, most of his experience had been in fire suppression and he went on to take several courses that have led eventually to his appointment as chief in the start of an organized paid department, and therefore, these courses he took apparently must be beneficial in the minds of the governing body of Morgan Hill.

The task will be a bit easier for the new marshal as Embree has paved the way, by setting up of the criteria under which the department operates and having tested the enforceability of many of the ordinances under which the department functions.

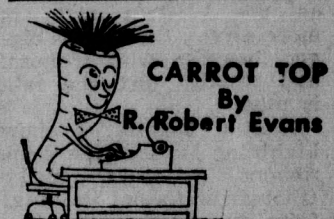

We believe the same is true of any of the qualified men on the local fire department roster. It seems, to us it would be a grave injustice on the part of the City Council to by-pass those local men, who submit applications, that have donated many, many hours in training, practice and actual fire-fighting as a service to their community; endangering their lives at times in order to save local property.

We believe the City Council will reiterate the gratitude that they have expressed to the volunteer department several times within the past years, by giving these men first consideration in appointing one of them into this field. It is hard to figure out which is the most important: prevention or suppression, like which came first the chicken or the egg. But we do think, that any man who donates his services for ten, 20 or 25 years to the city, saving them many, many hundreds of thousands of dollars should certainly be given the first opportunity; should this fail, then it is time to seek outside appointees to fill the vacancy.

Actually, if I was any happier, I wouldn't have good sense... I have all the feelings that the year 1967 is really going to be a great year... businesswise, communications-wise, with lots of compatibility.

Sierra Madre is a beautiful community, full of learned people and good-looking women. As Byron Hopper told me this morning, he had inquired of a multi-millionaire as to where the best place in the world for retirement might be.

To all our interested readers, your Editor and Assistant Editor wishes to announce that they are now grandma and grandpa. Kimberly Kay, 5 lbs. 14 oz. of beautiful heaven arrived to their daughter and son-in-law in Portland, Oregon, 8:30 in the evening Friday 13. Eventually she will be listed among the most beautiful girls in the world. I hope, I hope, I hope.

Byron has ideas of starting a "hot dog stand" in Hawaii, or maybe go to Alcapolco, if he could figure how to contend with Mexican laws, but the answer of this close friend of Byron told him the best place in the world to retire was...

You guessed it... SIERRA MADRE... where else could you live, close to the mountains, go to the beach in minutes, Hollywood, musical centers, art centers and a round of entertainment and good food in a few minutes?

Now I am not in any way close to being a millionaire, let alone a multi, but I am sure happy that I can breathe the same air, see the same mountains, and with a little change left over after taxes, go to Hollywood and the topless bars. I just don't care for art centers, unless they are of this type, and music seems to bore me, unless it is the Tijuana Brass.

So you see, this all makes me very happy, having the opportunity to live and work in Sierra Madre. I am truly sorry everyone doesn't have the opportunity.

Have you noticed the Subscription Campaign that we now have in progress? If not, you had better look it up and get in on the bargain. The way things are progressing, we may have to cut it off before he end of January.

When we started, it was our figuring to come up with approximately 500 new subscribers as about all we could add. Here it is the 19th of the month and already over 328 of them have been taken, so let's get going to get the bargains.

Don Taylor, the congenial fellow out at Taylor's Old Fashioned Meat Market, really shook up the general public the middle of December. Everyone who came into the store and required change back from their meat purchases received a bright new Kennedy Half-Dollar.

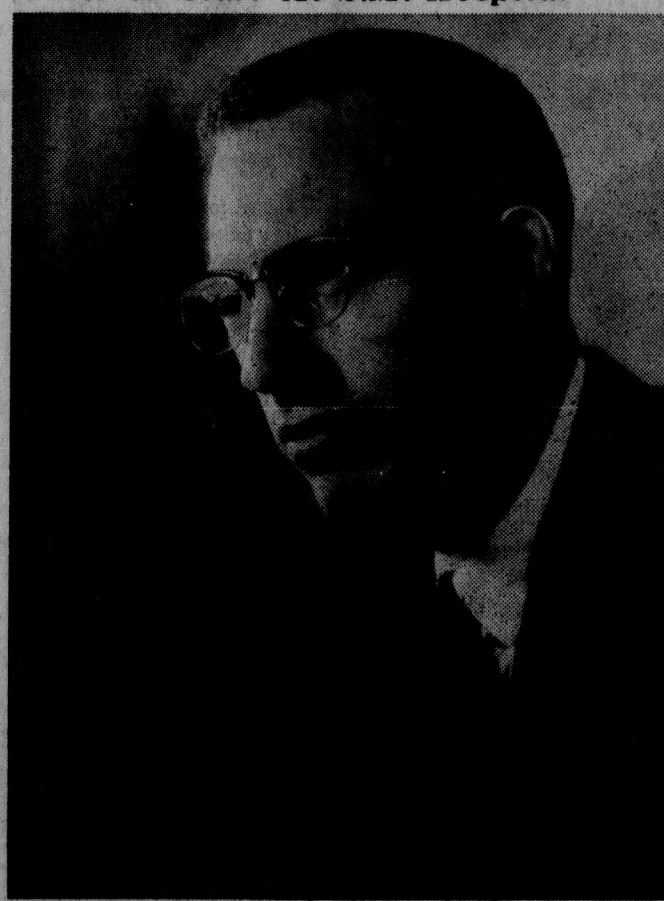

It's been so long since I have seen a half-dollar that I almost dropped my teeth when he handed me one. And standing around and watching the general public they all seemed to take the same attitude. Of course, Don got a real big bang out of this one.

Speaking about the Kennedy money, I remember way back when they first came out with the Roosevelt Dimes. Being an ultra-conservative Republican, I decided that I would collect all of the Roosevelt dimes and put them in a sock to get them out of circulation.

I don't really know what happened, but the Roosevelt dimes must have had more influence than I did, as the mints stepped up production and after a couple of months I could plainly see that I just couldn't get over the ground fast enough to get them all collected up, so lish" instruction in how to sit and guide a horse thanks to family friends who had a stable. When she was 15 her family gave her a horse of her own, named Lightning, trained for jumping and "Western" riding.

For the milder English style, a small saddle with no horn is used, legs are used more in the guiding and often two reins, whereas the Western style is more severe, the saddle bigger, heavier, with a horn, and usually just one rein is used.

Kristin began to show Lightning locally, took some ribbons, got some help (though no formal training) from an experienced horsewoman. Then at 17 she spent a summer in Colorado Springs, training with Col. R. L. Robertson, famed as one of the largest trainers in the Rocky Mountain District, and the one who had originally trained Lightning.

Here Kristin learned something of hunting, jumping and "dressage," are art of guiding a horse into intricate movements.

When Lightning became lame, "Please Redeem," a bay gelding like the first, was bought from Col. Robertson. Kristin began to show in earnest in Dallas and the other cities in the Southwest circuit, and in some smaller local shows, placing consistently and taking ribbons. She spent a second summer in Colorado Springs, got in a first semester at Oklahoma State U. and some business and modelling courses before getting to England last April.

Her schedule at the riding school sounds as rugged as basic military training: down at the stables at 7, clean stalls, have breakfast, get the horses ready for classes, riding lesson half day, other half a lecture or demonstration, feed horses at 4:30, clean stalls, repeat at 6. Understandably, by evening students were too tired to do anything much, except occasionally to wander down to the local pub. London was glimpsed in only four brief trips, for Kristin is serious for sure about horses.

"Please Redeem" is now boarding at his home stables in Colorado and is up for sale so that he won't get out of condition with no rider, but has been entered as an open jumper in a big show in Denver, and when Kristin makes a planned trip back to Oklahoma City this month she hopes to see him in it.

She misses him, hopes to have another horse here soon. She and her mother are staying with relatives in Pasadena while Mrs. McKelvey minds the store part-time at Tia Nita and searches for a home here in Sierra Madre. Younger daughter Patricia Michelle, otherwise known as "Patty," who is ten, will attend Sierra Mesa School here.

Kristin once thought she'd like to study veterinary medicine, now plans to go on into zoology or biology, thinking at this point that rather than be in instructor she might like a job to do with stable management. Since she also has a long-ing to ride the mountains around here, don't be surprised if she does. Perhaps the presence of such an experienced horsewoman in Sierra Madre will rally other riders to form a riding group here.

Singers Install New Officers

The celebrated Arcadia Gaslight Chorus, a group more familiarly known as the Barbershop Singers, held its annual dinner for the installation of new officers on last Saturday, January 14, at a restaurant in West Covina. New officers are: president, Art Del Ray; vice president (membership), Fred Matthews; vice president (program), Bob Daggett; secretary, Bernie Brion; treasurer Bill Poyas.

This is the group which will be singing at the Chamber of Commerce annual dinner in February. Local resident member, Frances Eakman, who has been associated with the singers for 20 years, reminds newcomers or shy shower soloists that the group is always looking for new members and extends cordial invitation to applicants. Just give him a call at 355-6981 around dinner time, or turn up at the weekly practice session held Wednesday nights at 8:30 at the Holly Ave. School, located in Arcadia at Holly Ave. and Duarte Road.

The three months of "rest" that Stanley Baney, of our police force has been having to recover from an old injury incurred while on duty have not all been beer and skittles; seems he could scarcely eat his holiday dinners because his jaw was affected. More disturbing was the illness of his son Scott, 4, who had pneumonia and then a relapse after he was recovering. Both he and his brother Gordon, 6, are fine, now, though, and Baney hopes he will soon be able to say the same for himself, so that he can get back to work and see us all. Meanwhile, New Year's greetings from him.

Babysitting Course Open

While mom's away, baby can play safely thanks to a community service project called GEMS. Decoded it means Good Emergency Mother's Substitute.

A new GEMS program got under way on January 17 at the Charter Oak High School cafeteria from 7 to 8:30 p.m. It's co-sponsored by the Foothill Medical Auxiliary and the Covina YWCA, and was free to all teens in the San Gabriel Valley.

Mrs. John Gordon, GEMS instructor started the course off with tips on baby sitting etiquette. Covina's Finest, the police department, also will take part in the course. One of its "men in blue" will talk to the girls on emergency procedures to protect the baby sitter and her charges.

The Covina Fire Department will be on hand to show life-saving procedures, and mouth-to-mouth breathing. Captain Donald Bell has a life-size dummy doll to wow the girls. She's "Russell Ann" and she will be the model the baby sitting students will practice resuscitation on.

Sally Walton, a teacher and youth leader for the YWCA discusses ways to amuse children, and what to do when baby throws his cereal on the floor. There's no such thing as a problem baby when a GEMS sitter is on the job.

This packaged baby sitting course was given on January 17 and will continue on January 31, February 7, 14, 21 and 28. Teens who have taken the course before say its got more pow than Batman. To register call the Covina YWCA.

Film To Be Shown By Library Friends

"Nanook of the North," a documentary film about the communal life of Eskimos and their struggle for existence, will be presented by the Junior Friends of the Sierra Madre Library, on Saturday, January 28, at 10 a.m. in the Children's Room, Sierra Madre Public Library. Considered one of the most famous and best-known of all documentary film, "Nanook" was the first effort its producer, Robert Flaherty, who photographed the Eskimos of the Hudson Valley to tell his story.

Although programmed for children, the film will be of interest to viewers of all ages, according to Mrs. Jerry Asher, chairman of the Junior Friends Committee of the Sierra Madre Friends of the Library.

Children who will be attending are requested to bring used books for the library sale later in the Spring.

A great many factors go into the choice of a particular dress or blouse by the average woman. Fabric design is one of the most important. When you choose a particular garment because you like the striking design in the fabric, be sure to consider whether or not it will wear well, clean well, and generally prove serviceable.

A design which is woven into the fabric is usually more serviceable than one which is affixed to it by pressure or embossing. Pressure application can damage the fibers of the yarn around the edges of the design, creating a weakness that might cause trouble later. Adhesive or embossed designs will sometimes wear out quickly or will be affected by cleaning.

A blouse or a lovely dress may be so appealing that its beauty will outweigh its limited serviceability. If it gives pleasure it may still be worth buying.

Extra care in the handling and cleaning of every garment is part of our normal service. Bring us your delicate and better clothes. If it can be cleaned, we can clean it . . . with CARE!

Von Allou Salon For the Hair Specializes In Individuality

It was a great day for the women of the Sierra Madre-Arcadia and Monrovia Areas when the von Allou Salon for Hair was opened last fall at 26½ E. Huntington Drive in Arcadia.

The new opening brought to three fine salons now located in the area, the other two being at San Marino and La Canada. The organization is headed by Mr. Duke Alan, who is the styles director for these three fine salons, who is a native of the state of Florida, coming to California several years ago when he received his training in the beauty profession, and has been quick to be recognized as one of the most exciting hair stylists and teachers in the Southern California Area.

Having represented the State of California in its national convention of cosmetologists association and had the honor of being presented with all of the major awards presented throughout the state, and now serves as third vice president of the association and is president of the San Gabriel Valley Hairdressers Association, besides his membership in the California Hair Fashion Committee and has represented this association on several occasions.

The employees of von Allou Hair Salon are rare indeed, they are an industrious, hard working group striving to give their all to the public which they serve. Each stylist is trained to individualize hair styles for each individual person, that each patron has her own custom styling, blending in with the type of life she leads and the type of person that she projects.

Each stylist is given instruction with regards to the proper care of hair and the art of suggestion and help to the patrons.

You are cordially invited to visit the salon, confer

Then come down to ground level and start your night.

First — For seafood lovers there is THE GROTTO which is similar to our own Sea Food Tavern.

Now I have eaten at this place — but since December 4, 1966 — thanks to Pope Paul, I eat a lot more MEAT.

And, if it's meat you want try THE ELEGANT FARMER — THE BOW AND BELL or THE SEA WOLF.

After dinner — for a truly unique place be sure and visit HEINOLD'S FIRST AND LAST CHANCE SALOON.

This place is just filled with history and MANY LAUGHS.

Say hello to Bill Tilley and Charlie on any night but Monday and Thursday.

Tell them you read about their place in the Sierra Madre News.

Next week the interesting story of — CHARLES'S OF San Francisco.

'PEPTONE' BY ALICE MANG

"The Knack" is here; they finally arrived! After one and a half years of hard work, this group has established a real good name for itself.

Their records "I'm Aware" and "Time Waits For No One," will be released by Capital on February 6 and in March their album will be released.

Mike Chain, rhythm guitarist and lead vocalist, is very much a leader. He has good opinions on music and won't settle for a second rate sound.

Bass guitarist, Larry Gould, is the "lady's man" of the group. He is friendly and cute. Most people consider him "The Knack with a knack."

Pug Baker is silent, yet he always drive a solid beat with his drums and does flashy solos. He is 18, as are all the other members of the group.

Dink Kaplan, lead guitarist, is very musical. He has very good opinions on it, and refuses to settle for a second-rate sound.

Knacks have played at Disneyland, the Ice House, the Hullabaloo, and various schools in the area. In fact, on January 28 they will play at Pasadena High School in a groovy concert. The Mothers Cookies will also play there.

On stage the group wears either red velvet or blue suits designed by Mike Chain.

One thing about the group is their fabulous ability to imitate other groups. Their imitations of The Beatles, Rolling Stones, Love and others were unbelievable, not only did they act like them, but they sang and even put on looks, like them.

All of the Knacks love performing. Mike likes good PA systems; Larry likes the smiling girls in the audiences; Pug likes the word entertaining; and Dink likes audience reaction.

Their plans for the future include: Mike's want to be king; Larry's want to have a number one group; audiences make Dink's future, and Pug is going on tours.

All that can be said is that this group is going to be really big. Don't miss your big opportunity to go and see them at PHS on the 28th.

Mother Announces Engagement of Daughter Mary Ann; Wedding June 24

Mrs. Ralph Hutcheson of Sierra Madre has announced the engagement of her daughter, Mary Ann, to Andrew Cooper of Sacramento.

Miss Hutcheson, daughter of the late Ralph G. Hutcheson, graduated from Ascension Parish Day School, Arcadia High School, and is currently enrolled at PCC. Mr. Cooper, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cooper of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, graduated from Lower Merion High School in Philadelphia, was stationed in Germany for 18 months as a medic in the Army, and is now studying Aeronavics at Sacramento City College, Sacramento. June 24 has been chosen as the date for the Nuptial Mass ceremony at Ascension Church.

Although Mary Ann is a native of the Sierra Madre, Arcadia area, the couple plan to make their home in Sacramento since Andrew will have still one more year of school.

Omicron Mu Delta Taps J. Englert and G. Jones

Pasadena City College highest honorary organization, Omicron Mu Delta, tapped 12 students and an honorary member into its ranks at the traditional OMD assembly at noon, January 12, in Session auditorium and formally initiated the group at a banquet in the Campus Center on January 14.

Students who have given service to the college are considered for membership. After careful screening the following local students were selected for membership honors on the basis of extraordinary and unselfish service.

James Englert, computer sciences major and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Englert, 131 Holdman Ave., who has been a liaison with the Men's Physical Education Department from Computer Sciences Council, and developed a new computerized spotting system for the Lancer football team, WSC champions. He has also created many demonstration programs of the Computer Center for PCC and the community.

Graham Jones, foreign languages major and son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Jones, 193 Ramona Ave., who has been student coordinator of the Foreign Language Cultural Hours, has served at the annual State Foreign Language Chairmen Convention, is a member of In-Will return to participate.

Originally called the Order of Mast and Dagger, OMD was founded in 1927 to recognize unselfish service given to the college by students, faculty, administrative and other personnel. The 40th anniversary of OMD will be celebrated this year and it is hoped many of its more than 900 alumni

Marine Hardy

Marine Corps Base. During his more than 200 hours of training, he learned about weapons and combat techniques from combat veteran instructors. They taught him how to conduct combat patrols, detect and remove mines and booby traps and use the standard Marine Corps infantry weapons.

He will now receive at least four weeks of specialist training before being assigned to his first permanent unit. Marines going to combat units will get detailed training in the particular combat skill they are designated for. Those who are going into technical fields will receive their advanced training at one of a variety of technical schools throughout the country.

Letters To the Editor . . .

Dear Editor:

The following is an open letter to the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team plus a poem dedicated to the team.

Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team: Our special heartfelt thank you to the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Team for their courtesy and efficiency in the rescue of our son Randy and his companions.

Thank you, also to John and Arlie Hahn, Ashleigh and Mary Buchan, Gary, Randy and Freddie Cheek for their concern and comfort during our hours of waiting and worry.

—LEWIS AND JOYCE WATANABE

THANK YOU!!! Our son and his companions, not yet home from the hills, The coldly creeping terror, as darkness slowly spills, It's inky blackness, hiding not the faithfulness of friends, Who come to sit, to still our hearts, the comfort that it lends.

Somewhere, in a canyon deep, the lost group sit and sling, Each song ending with a well yelled HELP!, knowing it will bring Those men in bright orange jackets, our Search and Rescue Team.

Oh men of mountains, of night and fear, we are so grateful that you are near, And thankful for your open hearts that send you up, with golden ropes to raise our hopes, To save our son, so very dear.

—Joyce Watanabe

SUPER BOWL ALMOST

SUPER IMPRESSIONS OF A SUPER BOWL SCRIBE . . . The Super Bowl Game will be played in some other city next year. How's that for openers?

For 32 minutes the AFL entry from Kansas City did a fine job on the mighty Green Bay Packers. Then Willie Wood stole a wayward Lenny Dawson pass and returned it to the 4-yard line. The Packers scored to increase their lead to 21-10 and the Chief chins started to sag.

NFL COMMISSIONER Pete Rozelle made a couple of boo boos. The first was putting the game in Los Angeles while blacking out the southland. The second was putting an "out of sight" price tag on the Coliseum seats. Consequently only 63,000 fans paid the price of admission.

TO BE COMPLETELY CLINICAL the NFL did their own "Pro Bowl Game" dirt by scheduling the Super thing in the Coliseum in the first place. It is this writers candid opinion that if the game had been decently priced at $8, $6 and $4 per duet and if the television blackout had been lifted, interest would have been sufficient to sell out the Coliseum.

FRANKLY THE GAME should have been played in New Orleans. This is a new NFL city, patrons would have flocked to the Sugar Bowl Stadium to see it (if not they shouldn't have been awarded a franchise), the local citizenry would have enjoyed viewing the action on TV and the Pro Bowl would not have been damaged by the publicity.

SPEAKING OF THE PRO

BOWL . . . Bart Starr and seven of his Green Bay teammates will be back next Sunday for an encore. Starr is so good that a third and 16-yard situation is almost a sure first down. His Packer cronies who will play for George Allen next Sunday are Willie Davis, Bob Skoronski, Forrest Gregg, Dave Robinson, Willie Wood, and Herb Ad-derley. That gang is worth the price of admission, which by the way is a damned sight cheaper than what the Super Bowl had to offer.

PERHAPS THE BEST has been saved for last. The 70 best football players in the NFL on the same field certainly looms as a nifty attraction.

ODDS AND ENDS . . . New that Lew Alcindor has fouled out of a game for the first time, fans and scribes have been searching the record books to see what has happened to Chamberlain and Russell. Wilt-the-Still has never fouled out of an NBA game. Big Bill 16 times has fouled out in regular play and five more in play-offs.

HOW ABOUT THIS ONE? I've heard about a henchman But never saw a hench Could it be the guy, perhaps

Who phones plays to the bench?

WOULDN'T YOU SAY THERE are some pretty good sized hearaches still in store this year in the world of sports?

Take for instance Cassius Muhammed Clay Ali. Please take him. As long as he is around the sports scene will be a mess. The constant fighting between the NCAA and AAU rubs much lustre Pro golfers are moaning about splitting TV money. American auto drivers are losing out to the foreign crowd. The pro football merger is great but leaves many unsolved problems. Mexico City worries the Olympians and Lew Alcindor worries opponents.

Problems for sure, but nothing that the sport game hasn't faced every year.

the Pasadena Council which highlighted the program theme — Girl Scouting — Values to Hold — Worlds to Explore.

"It is organizations such as the Girl Scouts that help preserve the American tradition of self-help and individual initiative.

"Youngsters who have the opportunity of association with the Girl Scouts learn many of the skills needed in later life and as they proceed through your program are imbued with the highest ideals of womanhood.

"I hope that the many fine qualities of the Girl Scout program are carried on as examples of what can be done outside government to make girls better citizens and our nation a better place in which to live."

Recognition was given to Mrs. James A. Roberts and Mrs. Stanley Seng who have completed six years of service and Mrs. Floyd Stoller who has given service beyond the call of duty. Speakers were Mr. C. E. Brad Millikan, Jr. of La Canada, Mr. Glen Crago of La Verne College and several Senior Girl Scouts.

Letters To The Editor . . .

Dear Editor:

Mother Margarita Maria, O.C.D.T., Administrator, the Carmelite Sisters and personnel of Santa Teresita Hospital join me in thanking you and the Sierra Madre News for news coverage afforded our hospital during 1966.

Also, I take advantage of this letter to invite you and other members of your staff to be with us on Sunday, January 22 at 3 p.m. for a performance of "Though the Years at Santa Teresita." This play, done by employees of the hospital, depicts Santa Teresita's growth since its founding in 1930. It is hopeful the story and picture on page two of the enclosed "Messenger" will entice you to join us in Madonna Hall on January 22 for this second presentation. Meanwhile, we send every best wish for a happy and blessed New Year.

—MRS. JOY BARNES

A report will be filed by Police Chief James Bale, in which he reports on his research of communities where this type of business is conducted. There will also be a report by the acting fire marshal and a staff report will be submitted.

The area designated for the tables takes in an area of approximately 2800 sq. ft. And, if the applicant follows the precedent of other applicants, filed in other areas will point out that this type of operation is far removed from the old-fashioned type of pool hall, in that it will cater to family trade with no gambling, alcoholic beverages or strong and abusive language permitted. They will also probably point out the successful operation in other nearby communities as being proof of not being detrimental to the community.

On the other hand the staff report will call the commissioner's attention to the fact that there is no parking facilities at all available as the two or three "on-street" parking spaces and the area available at the nearby public parking lot can not, by ordinance, be counted as legitimate parking spaces for the business.

If past hearings, in other communities, provide any criteria, a fair size turnout will be on hand to participate in the public hearing.

Bike Safety

their children of their safety responsibilities and by correcting their children when they see a violation. Traffic safety is everyone's responsibility.

Toy Loan

The party will feature the largest number ever in Sierra Madre of dolls officially "adopted" by girls who have proved responsibility for careful care of a doll-child; there will be 70 dolls adopted, and 150 Honor Awards presented.

Former Mayor James Abernethy, who has been appointed, with his wife, as co-chairman of Sierra Madre PTA to replace the Bert Embrees, will again officiate at the ceremonies and make presentation of the awards and the dolls to be adopted.

Following the "official" ceremony the Toy Soldiers, new group of volunteer assistants to Mrs. Helen Peterson, the Toyarian, will entertain the assembled guests and their parents with skits of their own devising, after which they will be assistant hostesses in serving the refreshments donated by parents.

So make note, inquire if your child will be a recipient of doll or award and be there.

The month of December there was a total of 376 active borrowers for Toy Loan.

Barney Decker

pals, Greg Sheppard and Steve Wark, who look forward to spending some time with the kindly mountain man.

It was Barney Decker who inserted and cemented the small pipe from which the sweet water flows for the thirsty hikers several years ago. Ambrose Zaro, 66, of Maywood, who also spends one day a week improving the trail and is truly called a "one man bulldozer," always fills his water jug here and carts it home to his wife.

Zaro states the water from Decker's pipe is the "best in California." But I feel the way these two old gentlemen work on the trail it must be the fountain of youth.

It would take "Ole" Billy Wark, 52, about three days to accomplish what Zaro does in a day.

Decker Springs is one of the most attractive parts of our new Wilderness Area. Gracefully tall Big Cone Spruce and Maples grow abundantly and the ferns grow thickly green. Here, in season, Tiger Lillies grow profusely casting an orange flame and a tiny stream sparkles in the sun.

Barney Decker who quietly gives his all to the trail he loves is very much a part of the color of our Old Mt. Wilson Trail.

Editorially Speaking . .

Past, Present, Future

In the short space of two decades, enough additional people will be living in the West San Gabriel Valley to make up a city the size of Fresno, members of the West San Gabriel Valley Planning Council were told at their January meeting held in Rosemead.

Forty representatives of cities, unincorporated communities and utility companies in the western portion of the San Gabriel Valley met to hear the first in a series of presentations by staff members of the Los Angeles County Regional Planning Commission on the future of the area. Material for the presentations has been developed from the Regional Planning Commission's West San Gabriel Valley Study, commenced in 1964 and now entering the concluding phase.

Speaking was Kenneth Topping, regional planner, who presented a series of maps showing the extent of urban development in 1940 and today. Topping pointed out that the West San Gabriel Valley is as large as many whole urban areas of the east, even though it is part of a much large Los Angeles urban region.

"Few Easterners appreciate the sheer size of our planning problems in Southern California," said Topping. "The West San Gabriel Valley alone is large enough to hold Washington, D.C. and its entire urban surroundings east of the Potomac," he noted.

In 1940, about one-third of this 100 square mile area was either vacant or in agricultural use, Topping pointed out. Yet, under the rush of recent urban development, only a small amount of the large open area has been held aside for the enjoyment of present and future residents," he continued.

The program was concluded on the note that in twenty more years, an additional 200,000 people are expected to be living in the West San Gabriel Valley and that although most of the area now is in urban development, the process of change will continue. Because there are fifteen cities in the area, this calls for coordination of planning for the future in order to avoid conflicting developments, and overlapping public investments, it was noted.

During the series on the future of the West San Gabriel Valley various aspects of future development will be analyzed from the area-wide and the focal points of view to see what areas of agreement can be reached in order to make coordination between cities, school districts, utility companies, and private developments most effective.

Unfunny Money

Ever since the New Deal days when we were patted on the head and told not to worry about the size of the public debt because we only owed it to ourselves, funny money has been a governmental temptation.

Now the Johnson administration has come up with the neatest fiscal trick of the century. Too complex to explain here, even if we could, it involves a mere flick or so of a ball-point pen, or whatever they use in the budget department. Up to $45 billion can be eliminated from the public debt by transferring it to the sheltering arms of what financiers refer to as "Fanny Mae," the Federal National Mortgage Association.

NAMA obligations do not count in the national debt, although the agency is part of the federal government. Don't ask us why. Just believe, believe. Also believe that in the end, we—the taxpayers—will play and pay and pay. Perhaps under happy hypnosis, but we'll pay.

March of Dimes

before. The news media report more on this subject than Americans seem to be interested in health as never almost any other. Government funds pour into a broadening array of health programs.

This, in turn, raises the question of the role of voluntary agencies like the March of Dimes whose traditional fund drive begins this week. Can these groups still make important contributions to medical progress?

A reassuring answer has come from a top government scientist, Dr. Richard Masland, Director of the National Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness, told a Congressional committee that:

"I have repeatedly heard . . . now that the Federal Government is putting so much money into research, there isn't any need for the voluntary agencies. I think this is a tragic error . . . we rely very heavily on the cooperation of these agencies . . . it is not easy for us to start something . . . in other words to create the programs . . . I think it will be a very sad day if the only place a scientist can go for support is to the government."

We agree with Dr. Masland and we believe The National Foundation-March of Dimes has always performed the precise functions he considers so important.

The organization demonstrated this in the conquest of polio. It is now proving the point again in its fight against birth defects.

By focusing public attention on the incalculable human damage, physical and mental, being caused each year through the birth of a quarter-million defective children, the March of Dimes has brought about a resurgence of medical interest in a field once shrouded in superstition and bereft of hope.

It has established a nationwide network of centers and clinics including one here in Los Angeles at Orthopaedic Hospital where teams of medical experts provide treatment which enables birth defect victims to lead useful lives. Contributions to the March of Dimes also help support scientific research that has made significant progress in the detection and control of certain defects.

Much more progress can be made with your help. Join the March of Dimes which continues throughout January.

FREEDOM AT ANY PRICE

by DR. HENRY V. WITTY

Management of this newspaper is not capable of answering questions to this column; however, letters to the editor will be published. Newspapers across the country have been feeding the reading public a piece-meal (one-at-a-time), incomplete description of the passages to be cut from the Manchester book "The Death of a President." Many people are seriously wondering just what the whole thing is all about.

You and Your Neighbors . . .

Richard Witter, who grew up in Sierra Madre, came over for Christmas dinner with his mother Mrs. Patricia Witter of 169 N. Mountain Trail and his grandmother, Mrs. Olive Hill, bringing with him from Alhambra his wife and the children Stephen, Sharon and Scott. A few days later he flew off to Chicago on a business trip.

Mrs. Sylvia Colbert Peterson recently returned from Memphis where she had to go back for more plastic surgery as a result of that shocking attack by a dog she suffered while visiting there last summer. She darted off to Palm Springs, and now is off to the Islands for a visit. The surgery caused her to miss the Christmas doing at the John Buchans. Among the Buchan guests were John's mother, Mrs. Edith Buchan; his sister Phyllis, with husband Emmet McCourt and children Michael, Mack and Janet, who all came down from San Francisco; his sister Edith, with husband Dale Pease and daughter Susan, from Oxnard; and his brother Ashleigh with wife Mary and son Ricky. His sister Sheila, married to Val Marriot and living in Sacramento found they couldn't come, so just as the Buchan party was sitting down to dinner, along came some bottles of champagne from the Mariott's. Later when phone calls were made to Mrs. Pederson in Memphis and Bill at Monague, things got pretty hilarious with at least two to a phone.

The following is some of the material insiders say will be deleted from "The Death of a President," by William Manchester and may only appear in pirated versions of the original manuscript.

LBJ is reported to have had difficulty reaching Robert Kennedy, and when finally contacted, the Attorney General was non-committal about Johnson's desires (of taking the oath of office.)

This is in direct conflict to testimony given before the Warren commission by President Johnson in which he said, "Shortly after we boarded the plane, I called Robert Kennedy . . . The attorney general said that he would like to look into the matter of whether the oath of office as President should be administered to me immediately or after we returned to Washington . . . Johnson said he next talked with McGeorge Bundy and Walter Jenkins . . . and then Robert Kennedy came back on the line and advised Johnson "that the oath should be administered to me immediately before taking off for Washington."

There is an account in Mrs. Kennedy's own words of the last night she spent with her husband before going to Dallas. There are quotations from a highly emotional love letter which Mrs. Kennedy placed inside the casket. Manchester offers a detailed account of how Mrs. Kennedy used petroleum jelly to slip her wedding band on the dead President's finger. Later in Washington she wanted it back. The casket was opened and the ring was removed with difficulty because the fingers had swollen in death. She got the ring back.

The Kennedys were reported to have resented Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson because he pleaded with the President to go to Dallas to help him with a local political problem which LBJ should have settled himself.

In Dallas, just before the motorcade got underway, it was reported that none of the important officials wanted to ride with Vice President Johnson and vied with each other to avoid being assigned to the LBJ car.

It was reported LBJ was in President Kennedy's quarters (aboard Air Force One) attired in a dressing gown and eating a bowl of soup when Mrs. Kennedy arrived.

This is again in direct conflict to testimony given before the Warren Commission by both President Johnson and Lady Bird Johnson. The President testified: "We were ushered into the private quarters of the President's plane. It didn't seem right for John Kennedy not to be there. I told someone that we preferred for Mrs. Kennedy to use these quarters."

Lady Bird testified July 10, 1964: " . . . We had at first been ushered into the main private presidential cabin on the plane — but Lyndon quickly said, no, no and immediately led us out of there; we felt that it was where Mrs. Kennedy should be."

According to Manchester, Bobby Kennedy was reported to have said about Johnson: "Here is the man who has been wishing he had been President all along and here he is grabbing it." Perhaps, now we have a better idea as to why the Early Monday morning a telephone call came to the Sierra Madre police from Erie. The caller identified herself as Miss Gold, described the billfold to the satisfaction of the officers and requested that portions of the money be paid to each of the boys and the remaining money and billfold be sent to her.

County Fire Warden Spence D. Turner suggested to the Board of Supervisors that able-bodied men be subject to conscription during major forest fires. The only excuse from aiding in emergency fire-fighting would be sickness or disability. Sierra Madre and other foothill cities, because of their proximity to the mountain range, would likely be among the first to feel the effects of conscription in the event extra manpower was needed.

United Crusade Makes It Final Drive

suggested, "let's look at one of our local agencies . . . Foothill Family Service. They provide vital marriage and family counseling programs to our community. Broken homes and the often resultant problems of these situations are a serious concern to all of us.

"If we don't raise the money necessary to support these services," he continued, it would mean many families who would otherwise have received family counseling would not get this help, and many other families would have to wait for months after first applying to the agency.

"This could be disastrous, especially to many young married couples that could have weathered a crisis with immediate counseling, but without it, they tend to take quick, impulsive and disruptive action.

"Some teenagers whose major troubles could have been prevented would run away, drop out of school, or become more withdrawn and unhappy. The parents of these children will remain frustrated and isolated from their children with possible heartbreak ahead as they stand helplessly by and watch a maturing child apparently smash his chances for a successful adult life.

"These and others who call for family counseling to help with critical and painful problems would be confronted with a delay in receiving the services they need, a delay that to them would be almost unbearable . . . or too late."

"These are but a few of the reasons why we must attain our local United Crusade goal this year," Hobson said. "If we don't help now by making our contributions, we will eventually end up paying a much higher price."

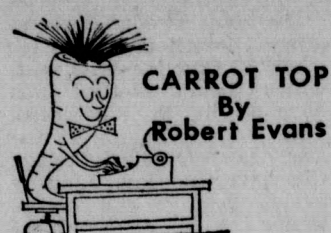

Hobson urged everyone in the community who has not made his contribution to the United Crusade yet to send it in as soon as possible, so that the campaign may be concluded successfully.

Frederick Irvin O'Byrne, 700 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., is among the record 774 degree candidates who have applied for mid-term graduation from Texas A & M University, announced Registrar H. L. Heaton.

Heaton said the record January graduating class includes 275 students seeking advanced degrees. Ph.D. candidates total 84 and masters candidates 191.

Frederick will receive his degree in computer science. Commencement exercises will be conducted Jan. 21.

I am having a hard time waiting for the Kentucky Fried Chicken emporium to open its doors. I can taste it now, golden brown fried chicken and on the way home stopping at the Village Ice Cream Parlor and picking up the dessert for the dinner. Gee, won't we have a grand time this summer with fried chicken and ice cream right on our doorstep?

—CT—
How about all these January Sales that are going on . . . such bargains I have never seen before in my life. Of course I am holding on to my money, waiting patiently for either Mr. Monahan of Sierra Madre First Western or Paul O'Sullivan of Security First National Banks to announce their January clearance of old, slightly worn twenty-dollar bills . . . if you ever get in on one of those deals, you really got yourself something. Watch for it, when they announce it, I'm sure it will be in the Sierra Madre News . . . Where else, if it be news!

In closing this week, I will throw you a deep one—think about it . . . "Once you've tasted champagne, it's hard to go back to beer." The tax structure is such that I doubt massive fortunes like those that have financed some universities ever will be accumulated again, although I hope, I hope, I hope.

Fire Comm. Seeks To Broaden Scope

Sierra Madre Fire Commission met Monday night and after a long delay waiting for a quorum finally approved the recommendation of passage of two ordinance affecting fire control in brush areas.

After an abbreviated discussion the three commissioners present, Bill Diemer, Blaine McGillivray and Ross Tyree recommended to the Council passage of the two ordinance as presented.

Also present were Fire Chief Charles Brown and City Administrator Darwin Dennis. The commission also decided to seek a broadening of its scope of work so that it might delve into the Fire Rating Study presented in October, 1965, and make feasibility studies of ways to carry out some of its recommendations in an effort to bring down insurance costs.

Chamber of Commerce Reviews

W. Harriman, J. Lipes, J. McGee and D. Woodruff will meet soon to plan for more effective use of money next year, and hopefully, better street decorations more in keeping with the town image sought. The successful use of caroling groups which broadcast from Kersting Square will be retained as an annual feature and will be more carefully planned for in advance.

R. Green will be the chamber delegate to the San Gabriel Valley Association of Chambers of Commerce. Similar contacts and effort were urged by various members in the discussion of the future which followed a talk by Councilman Dick King, who pointed out that as one of two cities in the L.A. basin which has showed a sales decline in the past ten years, Sierra Madre needs urgently in making plans for the future to do more than improve facilities for housing civic offices, and should consider plans which will benefit the entire community.

He indicated that unless sales tax receipts improve, the city would be forced to up property taxes, and that when a city cannot afford needed services, such as a fire department, and is forced to go to contract with other communities to provide them, loss of both identity and control is inevitable, with annexation a lurking threat.

Various suggestions were offered and the consensus of opinion was that additional meetings and an educational committee would be required to generate some really effective action towards better business and an improved community.

Other committees for the new year, in addition to those for the dinner and the officers' executive committees, are: nomination, R. Green; Wistaria Vine, L. Rudbach; collections, D. Underwood; finance and budget, B. Wightman, J. Asher; special events, W. Harriman; Nativty scene, G. Lloyd, W. Harriman, R. Thurston; policy and liaison, R. Green, J. Asher; membership and associates, J. Burke, W. Sullivan, D. Underwood; parking, W. Sullivan, J. Meade; publicity, D. Underwood, J. McGee.

Also, city beautiful, W. Harriman, J. Lipes, J. McGee, D. Woodruff; architectural, L. Rudbach, W. Harriman, P. Cook; merchants' decision, D. Woodruff, W. Woodruff, W. Sullivan, J. Cook.

Assisting Jim Burke with the installation dinner will be D. Underwood, R. Green and L. Rudbach, and in choosing the Citizen of the Year, chairman Jerry Asher will have the committee help of D. Delahooke, J. Burke, B. Wightman, L. Rudbach and D. Underwood.

With 15 board members to cover the work of 16 committees, it is apparent that not only must board members double in brass but that the urgently needed help of other chamber members and citizens at large will be warmly welcomed, and these might wish to clip the committee information given here and pitch in.

All board members were present at the meeting except R. Green and R. Hurwitz; guests included, in addition to Ben McGee of the Clarion and Lois Sinsheimer of the News, ex-board member Dick King, Police Chief James Bale, Mrs. Donna Woodruff of Cyci's; W. Harriman, Sierra Madre Glass, and R. Harbicht of So. Counties Gas Co.

Volunteer leaders of youth-serving agencies who'd like to use folk-dancing as part of their local activities can secure training to do so through a special county program of a series of workshops. Check the Pasadena Dept. of Recreation. Later there'll be a workshop session for review and information on costumes. Wish we had a good folk dance group here — or two of them, since adults enjoy them, too.

Friends will be glad to know that Miss Phyllis Rigney of 153 Lowell is home from her hospital check-up and feeling very fine, indeed. Before going in, she had a pleasant holiday visit with her brothers and their families in Lakewood.

AN EYE ON THE WORLD

The fascination of a globe . . . let the eye roam over the world map . . . notice the different countries and continents . . . try to imagine what life must be like in each of these places.

Yes, every spot on the globe has its particular need. Sometimes it is a need felt in that one place alone. Yet, in a sense, every place is the same, for all countries are made up of people. And all people have the same basic needs.

One of these needs is faith — faith in a God who also has an eye on our world — faith in a God who sustains us, and who gives meaning to time and eternity. Your own life has this need. You can answer that need by attending church, and discovering the strength and joy which come through regular worship.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Medical Self Help — A six week course featuring the following topics: healthful living in emergencies, nursing care of the sick and injured, infant and child care, transportation of injured persons and emergency childbirth.

Emergency Communications — The instructor for the course is Herschel Calvert, Radio Chief, Pasadena Police Department. This is a semester course covering citizen emergency, radio service, emergency communications systems, techniques, procedures, field trips, license requirements, and RACES.

The realization that national survival depends on the knowledge and action of individuals has led to the courses offered. Modern warfare is such that civilian populations are involved as never before in the history of the world. Nuclear war is possible. It brings new kinds of danger. If nuclear war does come, individuals, families and communities will have to act initially on their own to survive. It is therefore vital to the defense of our country and the survival of our people that all citizens understand the threat of nuclear weapons and learn the techniques of survival.

You and Your Neighbor

There's much of interest around for those who have caught up on rest (and are not cramming for finals, now become an adult problem, too). New at the Pasadena Museum of Art is the Joseph Cornell exhibition, fascinating antecedent of several art and advertising trends. All the items are in box cases, like shadow boxes; several things in the exhibit were loaned back by owners Tony Curtis and Billy Wilder. Saw this with Roy and Pearl McConchi who now have their rear studio workshop completed and the green house at 204 E. Sierra Madre Blvd. reasonably settled, so expect some unusual new pieces of sculpture by "Konchi" in wood or metal to appear there soon.

Well worth seeing for tops in comedy performance by Audrie Christie and Monty Landis is the Pasadena Playhouse ambitious revival of famed "Lady In The Dark." The Broadway musical which put Freud to pop tunes. Well worth hearing is the musical direction of Ernest Gold; music students will find interesting the way the score is actually three little operas joined together. And if you like to say "I told you so" or remember a big name when it was a young and new one, or just if you like fine musical performance in an ideally small and receptive situation, do catch the two remaining recitals the next two Sundays of the California Artists Series presented at the Shakespeare Club. Last Sunday both pianist Horatio Gutierrez, only 17, and tenor Richard Fields received bravo type ovations.

gery the next day and a stay of a week or more, don't be surprised if she seems unusually calm and collected. For her, at this point, it will represent the prospect of respite and rest after six-year old son Jeffrey's two recent hospital sojourns. The Jones family had a happy week of skiing at Lake Tahoe over the holidays, with Jeff negotiating the slopes along with the others. They returned on the 28 and next day Mary and Richard went to town to exchange gifts, and Jeff was parked with kind neighbor Virginia Farmer. All he did was fall under the table where he was coloring, but he achieved a gash which required stitches over the left eye. Three days later while steering his new bike around the parade area with his family, he bumped into a manhole cover and fell, with much blood resulting and his mother shaking as badly as he was. He did have a concussion and a resulting rough week of special care, though permitted home for this. His sister Jennifer, 8, is now debating about nursing as a career.

Mary's mother, Mrs. Hazel Klock of Pasadena will mind the hearth while Mary is in the hospital, on two conditions: that Jeff's bike will be locked up in the garage for the duration, and that she has plenty of rope on hand. Mary was on her way to Arnold's for the rope when we talked! Seriously, the Jones family would like to send a special salute to Sergeant Rodriguez of the Sheriff's Department, who not only ran an unauthorized Code 3 with sirens to get Jeff to the hospital, but thoughtfully called their house that night to inquire how the boy was.

Sierra Madre Included $39-Million Flood Control Work On 1967 Agenda

A record number of flood control and storm drain projects totaling nearly $39 million were sent to the Board of Supervisors for bid advertising by the County Flood Control District during 1966.

Supervisor Warren M. Dorn said today.

A total of 72 jobs were forwarded to Supervisors for their approval during the year just ended. Included were a number of vital drainage, flood control and water conservation facilities.

They were financed from the 1958 and 1964 storm drain bond issue programs as well as revenues from the flood control tax.

Dorn said a large number of projects were also completed and placed in service during 1966. In the Fifth Supervisorial District, storm drain facilities were completed in Burbank, Glendale, Altadena, and La Canada.

The year saw additional contracts awarded for projects in Pacoima, Sierra Madre, Burbank, Reseda, and Newhall.

Regular flood control construction completed during 1966 included a section of East Canyon Channel near San Fernando, Kinneloa Debris Basin in Altadena, Mazon improvement was Clure Channel in Burbank, and Santa Susana Creek in the San Fernando Valley.

A contract for an additional unit of the East Canyon Channel in Burbank, and Santa Susana Creek in the San Fernando Valley.

And if you are a parent and seek to understand or at least cope with your older young, don't neglect to grab a copy of the Time issue which has for cover "The Man of the Year," this time a generic man representing those under 25. It may surprise, may scare you, but if our world is going to be 50 per cent under 25 in only a few years, let's forearm with a little knowledge!

Dr. James McLaren delivered his famous "Ben Hur" lecture at the Woman's Club for the benefit of the Alpha Nu Class of the Congregational Church.

Assemblyman Henry W. Wright of the 69th District was again chairman of the ways and means committee of the lower house of the legislature.

"Using Your Hidden Powers" is the sermon-topic of Dr. Ethel Barnhart Sunday morning, January 22 at the 11 o'clock worship service at the Santa Anita Church, 226 W. Colorado Blvd., Arcadia. For the convenience of parents child care for infants and very young children is provided.

Dr. Barnhart says: "Our classes in spiritual education for all youth from kindergarten through high school help build a sure foundation of spiritual understanding. These classes meet during the adult worship service, following 15 minutes of worship in the sanctuary with their parents. All are welcome."
Thursday, January 19 at 11 a.m. a class is conducted by Dr. Barnhart for all women, after which there will be a luncheon in our beautiful Fellowship Hall. Following the luncheon at 12:45 a.m. Beverlee Kelley will speak on "Living Enthusiastically." All women are invited.

New members will be received by the congregation during this service and will have a chance to get acquainted with other members at the social coffee hour following the service.

Letters to The Editor . . .

Dear Editor :
Really enjoy getting my Sierra Madre News since I've lived there since 1923, until a few years ago, still a property owner there, so you see it's still home, and I'm still interested in its doings and activities, though it sure is growing, and our old friends seem to get fewer, so I surely want to continue to get the News.

Extend it for two years at $7 and also for the 50 cents send the extra subscription to Mrs. Margie Wilson, 281 Santa Anita Ct., Sierra Madre.

To Races
On Thursday, January 26 the Philanthropy Department of the Shakespeare Club will have a Day At The Races. Limited number of reservations available with excellent seating in the Santa Anita Turf Club. Mrs. Housewife To Learn About Better Budgeting

The monthly tea meeting of Sierra Madre Woman's Club will be held at the clubhouse at 2 p.m. Wednesday, January 25.

The social hour will be enlightened by Eileen Wood, an enthusiastic and instructive speaker sent out by S & H Green Stamps who will talk on "To Market, to Market" and show Mrs. Average Housewife how to take the best possible advantage of her housekeeping dollar.

In these days of what seem to be rather exorbitant food prices her experience is a very welcome help. With a wealth of background, both in women's clubs and in commercialism, she is certainly worth a few minutes of one's listening time.

Mrs. Roy E. Griffin, club president, is again asking club members and friends to gather together all those unneeded articles about the house for a huge rummage sale in March to help defray the cost of the new roof repairs on the clubhouse.

In charge of tea for the day is Miss Ruth West assisted by Miss Florence Peterson.

Summer Wedding Plans Revealed At Engagement Announcement

... engaged

Debora Miller, daughter of Mr. Bernard Miller of Malibu and Mrs. William Hogue of Sierra Madre has announced her engagement to Thomas J. Viren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Viren, who live at 3020 Shirley, Newberry Park.

Debora is currently attending Santa Monica High School where she expects to graduate this June.

Thomas attended El Segundo High, El Camino Junior College and Long Beach State College.

The couple plan to wed in the summer of 1967 after Debora graduates from high school.

You and Your Neighbor

Mrs. Pauline Lee, 185 N. Hermosa, having spent Thanksgiving with her son Howard at Santa Susana, his wife Mona and grandchildren Skip, Todd and Terry, took turn-about over Christmas at her daughter Bertha's home in El Monte, visited her and husband Carl Morel and their three boys and three girls.

A quite extensive new exhibit at the Pasadena Museum of Art is that of Jeremy Anderson, whose sculptural works in wood are certainly provocative and modern and who also has some tongue-in-cheek maps which are fun. It's a show to see with a companion to share the fun and the questioning.

Mow Mrs. Leo Lehner, 321 S. Anita Court, survived there birthday parties, a week apart on top of Christmas and New Year's activities is another matter, but the parties were great according to the children who were guests. Steven's party, to which the boys came dressed as pirates, was held January 7. Mr. Lehner had his birthday January 11, but no costumes were required. And Loryn, now 8, had eight guests for her party for which guests were asked to come dressed "as though they were going to ride in the Rose Parade." After a "parade" past judges, first prize for prettiest costume was awarded to Lori Hunsicker; Candy Evans was runner-up, with a costume representing "Tales of the Trails," a Search and Rescue helmet, a plastic dog for a bloodhound. Other guests were Sherry Anderson, Susan Hill, Julie Dietrich, Virginia Malone, Patty Nash and Laura Herron.

Tri Deltas Visit Descanso Garden

January 24 will provide a fun-filled afternoon for the Arcadia Tri Delta Alumnae as they journey to the lovely Descanso Gardens. Members will be met at 11:45 by a tram which will take them up the hill for a delightful luncheon at the Hospitality House.

After lunch, Mark Anthony, superintendent of the gardens, will give an informative talk on camellias and the gardens. A tour of the grounds by tram and a stop for tea at the Japanese Tea House will conclude the afternoon's festivities.

All Tri Deltas in the area may make reservations by calling Mrs. William Snaer, 287-2525. Assisting Mrs. Snaer for this event are Mrs. Robert Thompson of La Canada and Mrs. Edward O'Brien of San Marino.

Rummage Sale To Aid School

The Hastings Ranch Nursery School announces its annual Rummage Sale on Friday, January 27. The action will begin at 8 a.m. at 31 E. Holly St., Pasadena. There will be many good things to choose from in the way of clothing, toys, appliances, and baby items.

Mrs. Albert Dickson, chairman of ways and means, is in charge of the sale. The nursery school is a non-profit organization and all proceeds will be used to purchase needed equipment for the school.

Retarded Benefit From Half Price

The Retarded Children's Thrift Store, located at 10950 Garvey, in El Monte, will be holding a bonanza sale to celebrate their first anniversary on January 21. All items will be half price and the store will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

The Thrift Store is the chief means of fund raising for the Retarded Children's Association of the San Gabriel Valley, which has our daily training classes in Monrovia, Covina, La Puente, and San Gabriel. The Association is a parents' cooperative non-profit corporation with 70 pupils enrolled ranging in age from 2½ to 18. Most of the children are not eligible for the public school program.

The Thrift Store is always in need of usable discards and donors can call the store at 443-3041 for free pick-up. Donations are tax deductible.

Jamcan Orchids Topic of Lecture

The San Gabriel Valley Orchid Hobbyists are having their first meeting of the year January 19, at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum, Arcadia. For the meeting they will have Doc Charles of Costa Mesa, who will speak on "Orchids From Jamaica." This should be an interesting topic as Doc Charles she traveled quite a bit and knows his orchids.

The culture class which meets at 7 p.m. at the Arboretum prior to the regular meeting, will be a class of interesting to everyone.

Foreign Student Advisor Talks To Panhellenic Ass'n

Mrs. M. W. Mothershead, Community advisor, foreign student program, Pasadena City College, will be guest speaker for the Pasadena Area Panhellenic Association meeting, at the home of Mrs. Max E. Hayward, 1000 Avendale Road, San Marino, Thursday, January 26, at 9:30 a.m.

Mrs. Elwood Laine, Alpha Chi Omega, Arcadia, will preside at the business meeting, and introduce Mrs. George C. Briggs, Delta Delta Delta, Pasadena, program chairman.

Assessor Watson
Seeks To Aid
Riot Sufferer

County Assessor Philip E. Watson recently requested the Board of Supervisors to act on a resolution so that the Assessor's office can begin processing tax relief claims for property which was destroyed or damaged in the Watts riots of August, 1965.

Watson said his department was prepared to take claims for reassessment of riot-damaged property as soon as the supervisors pass an ordinance authorizing him to do so. Both the Board of Supervisors and the Los Angeles City Council, which passed such an ordinance December 19, 1966, must authorize the reassessment before the property tax relief law can become effective.

Under the Watts Riot relief act, which was passed by the Legislature last summer, a contingent upon voter approval of Proposition 5 on the November ballot, property owners who suffered damage in excess of $1,000 are eligible for tax refund upon presentation of an affidavit showing the amount of damage suffered.

Watson made the request for the necessary ordinance in a letter to Burton W. Chace, Supervisor of the Fourth District.

State Employment
Service Seeking
Career Applicants

Written tests will be given every Friday and oral examinations every Monday through January for career positions in the California Department of Employment, according to Arthur Morgan, area manager. Some of the positions, he said, require fluency in both Spanish and English.

Entry level jobs as employment security trainees pay $530, he said, with an adjustment to $557 after six months for satisfactory work. After one year, a trainee is eligible for promotion to employment security officer I, with a starting salary of $677.

Applications and information are available at all Employment Service offices, Youth Opportunity centers, and Service centers in the Los Angeles Metropolitan Area, Morgan said. To qualify for the civil service tests, Morgan said that graduation from college within the last five years or current status as a senior is generally required. Certain combinations of education and pertinent experience are also qualifying. Only U.S. citizens are eligible.

Employment security trainees participate in the many aspects of employment security programs. They are trained to select and refer applicants to job openings, to do vocational aptitude testing, and to confer with employers on job placement problems. They also learn to interpret and apply unemployment insurance laws and regulations, and to determine eligibility of applicants for unemployment insurance benefits.

The classification of employment security trainee (Mexican-Spanish speaking) is the same in all respects except that the work is principally among Spanish-speaking people, he said.

Tell you the government is taking care of all of my worries before they even happen. With everyone enthusiastically proposing new taxes right and left there will soon be nothing to fret about. Everything will be taxes and then we can sit back and just rock and wait for our weekly dole. Can't imagine why some politician hasn't thought of taxing air.

Why that would be a sure fire thing. No tax, no air, no breathe, no worry! Seriously, I wonder what heritage we are bequeathing our children. Will they be able to survive the burden we are putting on their backs or will they be forced into government servitude in order to live and be able to feed their families — will they be able to afford to have families at all?

By our advertising we are indoctrinating our children that they are born to the luxuries of life. Born to it, yes, we are even telling them that without these luxuries they may as well venture out into the light of day.

If the girls don't have all of the makeup and artifices to make them lovelier than the good Lord intended they are to be pitied. A simple lipstick cost $2.50, plus tax. A young man is being taught the art of scenting himself for any and every occasion, he is being encouraged to either dye his dull drab hair or wear a hair piece as his hairline recedes, and I might add at the rate he worries it is receding earlier all of the time.

He is cajoled into buying fancy cars and equipment and yet no one tells him he can't afford it... he must save to pay the extra taxes he has inherited from his forefathers.

Unfortunately, the more we are taxed, the more personnel is required to process these tax dollars, and the circle closes with more taxes to cover cost of the additional payroll.

Well — maybe it's just cause it's January!!!

The social life has been grinding to slow halt with daytime parties and activities taking precedence over the bright lights.

Can you think of anything more exciting than flying to San Francisco for lunch and a day of shopping? Jane Smith, Madelyn Harris and Nancy Mueller did just that little thing last week. It is the kind of exciting thing you always dream of doing and by golly, they did it, they really did it!

Dr. and Mrs. Barclay Camm are back in their Fairpoint home again after four months in Cambridge, Mass. Dr. Camm was invited to be a visiting professor in the Geophysics department of M.I.T.

The four children, Barky, Sasha, Anthony, and Linus had a wonderful time enjoying the winter sports of Massachusetts. They drove home through the Southern states and took a side trip to show the children the Grand Canyon.

The Rosemary Cottage bridge groups activated themselves this last week with bridge luncheons.

One of the groups met at the home of Nancy Plaes. I may not have all the substitutes accurately as they can change over night, but the list of girls that were invited included Jane Smith, Peg Parker, Phyl Hardison, Nancy Rode, Ethel Asher, Pat Giangregorio, Pot Olson, Marie Stoll and Margaret Howell.

Dorothy Halperin had the Rosemary Bridge Group fly over to her Arcadia home. The girls were treated to a glimpse of some of Dorothy's Oriental purchases. She returned from a six week Far Eastern tour just before Christmas. They covered Hawaii, on to Japan for eight days, Taiwan, Manila, Singapore, Bangkok, and Penang. Dorothy said she never stopped running from the time she left because she didn't want to miss a thing. For all intents and purposes, I think she accomplished her goal.

Her guests were Margaret Pyle and her house guest Lella Benson, Ginny White, Sara Anderson, Fran Wilson, Irene Fuller, Nancy Mueller, and Molly Mangan.

Mr. and Mrs. William Olson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardison had a fun weekend last week. They left on Thursday to spend a

Calif., will present a color film and lecture, "Better Food for Students."

For those RELATIVES and FRIENDS

Now that Christmas and the New Year Parties and Parade are over you surely must have some real good pictures that you should share with your family, relatives and friends. This is one of the most special and intimate of gifts you could give, because they are so personal that they really tell the highlights of your holiday doings.

Probably most people saw the Tournament of Roses Parade on television, and many say it in color, but if you were there in person and took pictures yourself, there is no better way of telling the folks than with copies of the "pictures you took" since they alone will convey your personal reactions to all this beauty.

Bill Clark in our photo department will help you select the ones that will make the best prints... and for a limited time only (until February 25th) he can offer you a SPECIAL on Kodak Color Enlargements. From now, until the last part of February you can save 50% on enlargements from your favorite color negative or slide. Here is all you have to do: Bring in your color slides or negatives to Bill, order two or more enlargements of the same size from the same negative or slide. The first enlargement will be billed at the regular price and all additional at just HALF price!

Do this soon — your folks are waiting to see your pictures and this offer expires February 25th.

You and Your Neighbors

by Mary-Madeleine Lamphier

Mr. and Mrs. George Mathieu of 145 Lowell, who were minus both of their sons over the holidays this year because of their military service, decided to bypass the many invitations of friends and take themselves a trip down San Diego way so they would miss the boys a little less. Of course, they've had news that both are well. Gregory is a helicopter crew chief at Vinh Long, near Saigon, flies every other day, did his Christmas giving to a missionary family met over there. Pierre, in the Navy but stationed at Clark AFB in Manila, is in intelligence communications so he mostly writes about a safe topic like the weather — which seems reminiscent of home, hot, humid, cloudy (that is, of smog summer days here). Their parents have lived here about a year now, and love it. They used to live in Arcadia for over a dozen years and both boys attended Arcadia High.

What boys went hiking and "camping out" up in the foothills and were startled out of their wits by what mountain man turning up and knocking loudly on their temporary lean-to? Jim Comer, Tom Gentry, Paul and John Copeland, with Steve Barry back and forth up the trail, had themselves and outdoor ball and also a good fright, given by Bill Wark, who stumbled on the spot where the boys were. Sequel to the story is that Bill decided to do a repeat performance with party horns and noisemakers when darkness fell, but the boys had decided to retreat for home, so for a short time Bill was making sounds in the silence with no victims, till his family rescued him with the tip-off that the boys were gone. Guess it's a good thing no casual strollers go that far or they might have decided that the mountains had finally really gotten to Bill!

Mrs. Marion G. O'Connor of 136 W. Carter reports that her son Brigadier General George G. O'Connor got ten days leave from Vietnam to visit his wife Hope, who's been living in Honolulu to wait out the war; (he will soon have the title of Major General, they've been notified). The couple's son Robert flew over to the Island from Virginia to join his parents for the holidays; and so did Hope's sister and husband, Margaret and Dr. Charles C. Bish who live on Orange Grove here. The General's youngest son, Lt. Will G., who graduated from West Point last June, is to be married on Long Island January 28.

Meanwhile Mrs. Marion O'Connor was having very festive holidays with her three sons who live in this area. On Christmas she visited the two who live in San Marino; Frank, his wife Betty and their children Patrick, Michael, Becky and Terry; and also son Matt G., whose oldest boy Dan is a student at the Pasadena Playhouse, and Tim and Tom. On New Year's, she gave a family party herself, which was attended by son Judge J. Robert O'Connor and his wife who came up from San Diego for a visit.

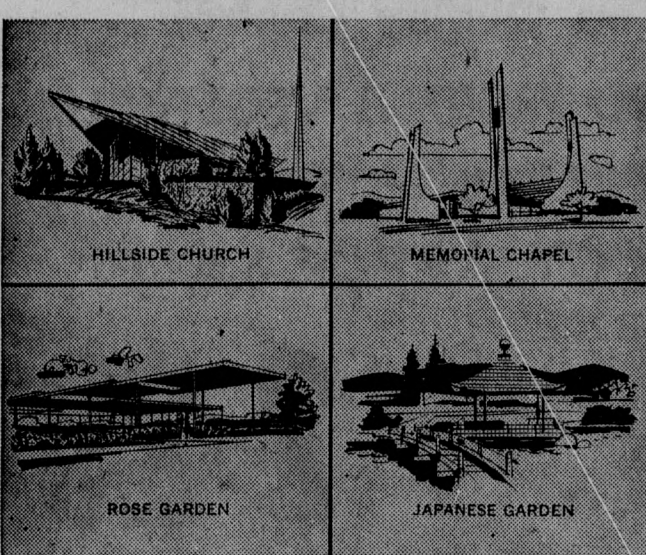

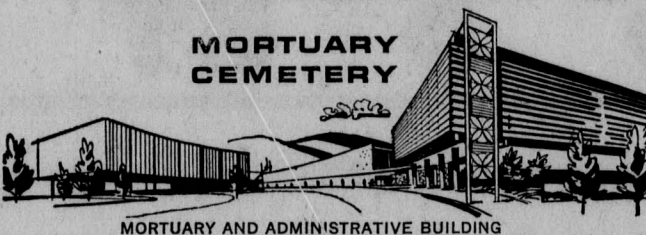

Incidentally, it's Frank O'Connor's wife Betty who recently opened that charming "Happencance" restaurant on Fair Oaks, across from Fred the Auctioneer's (who has the Thieves Market last Sunday morning of each month.) In this little area rapidly undergoing a transition into an antique and special shop mart which brought an award to Fred from the Pasadena Beautiful group, there's a unique little shop next door to the Happencance, in the rear, which Sierra Madreams will want to know about for several reasons.

It's called "Kelly's Trading Post". Kelly, half-Irish, half - "nez - pierce" Indian, utilizes part of the shop for super things handmade before your eyes in leather, will whip you up long-lasting sandals to your own design if you wish. He also minds the store for the other half, a collection of American Indian handicrafts, the present collection being the long-time hobby of family therapist John Skinner.
